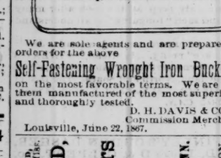
FASSMAN'S IRON TIES
—FOR—
COTTON BALES.



THE undersigned have made extensive arrangements to supply the demand for these Ties the present season.

In addition to the FASSMAN IRON TIE and BUTTON TIE, so extensively used heretofore, they now offer his ALLIGATOR TIE, with teeth so arranged as to instantly clamp the hoop when the pressure is removed from the lever, and hold without slipping.

Great pains have been taken to secure the best quality of iron.

These Ties are so simple in their arrangement that they can be applied by any one, to bales of any size, with the same facility and expedition as rope. In strength, security and facility of application, they will compare favorably with any yet introduced.

The advantages of Iron Ties are now generally recognized; but it is deemed not out of place to call the attention of those interested to the very emphatic recommendation of Undertakers, Steamboat Captains, and Owners and Agents of Sea Steamers and Sailing Vessels, recently published in the newspapers in New Orleans.

Our Latest Improved
NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTE.
GROVESTEEN & CO.,
499 Broadway, N. Y.

THESE Instruments, after the most flattering testimonials from the first Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the most unreserved manner, have been pronounced THE FINEST SQUARE PIANO-FORTE MADE IN THE WORLD.

It has always been our policy during the thirty-six years that we have manufactured Pianos, to introduce every improvement made in the United States and Europe, to give the finest instrument at the lowest cost. Our superior facilities enable us to offer them from one to three hundred dollars less than any other First Class House.

The tone of these Instruments are remarkable for their peculiar Sweetness and Great Brilliancy, never losing a quality when forced to their utmost capacity. The lower register retaining its positiveness does not destroy the middle and upper registers by mingling with them in disagreeable confusion, the refined beauty of tone being equally delightful to the inexperienced and to the most cultivated ear.

They are an entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with four full round corners front and back, heavily carved legs and lyre Serpentine Base richly moulded, and each Instrument is fully warranted for five years. sep6 d&wly

NOTICE
—TO—
GAS CONSUMERS.

IN compliance with a pledge made in their communication of February last, to the Hon. Mayor and Board of Aldermen, the

Memphis Gas-Light Company

have determined to reduce the price on their sales of Gas supplied on and after the

First Day of December next to the lowest rate then deemed possible, allowing a small profit on the capital invested, and pledge themselves that the price then established shall range among

THE LOWEST RATES CHARGED

in other Southern and Southwestern cities.

Their apparatus, lately at great expense improved and extended, enables them to supply as pure, strong and brilliant a gas light as that supplied any where in the United States.

With reference to a much threatened opposition in business, of which they do not deem probable, the Company hereby give notice to their patrons and the public, that in case of an actual competition they will supply their demands at

One-Third, or Less than One-Third the Rates Established by such Competitors.

Their Works were constructed with a view of remunerating the owners for their investments, as well as for the public convenience. Notwithstanding such intention, they will sell or furnish

Light at a Mere Fraction of the price asked by any competing or opposing Company.

President.

A Card.

WE will at once rebuild our warehouse, and will have it completed by the 15th of September, but by the first day of that month we will be ready to receive goods on store.

The sheds will be divided into fire proof compartments by brick walls, and covered with tin. Those who have patronized us for the last two seasons, and those who may have proposed to do so the approaching one, may rest assured we will be ready for them.

We design establishing a Cotton Compress in connection with our warehouse, upon an account of which we will be ready by the 1st of October or sooner. The proximity of our establishment to the river renders the handling of cotton so convenient that we can transfer cotton for shipment by river free of drayage. The advantage of the position is equal to one drayage on all cotton sent for compressment from other warehouses, while on all cotton in our warehouse for compressment there can be two drayages saved, and it would be as easy for us to transfer it from our shed to the Compress as to turn it out in the ordinary way for transfer by drays.

SUNDAY READING.

COFFEEVILLE, MISS., October 8, 1867.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

It is important to every one to be able at once to tell the day of the month without reference to a calendar. This, I have ascertained, can easily be done by the following method: Let the following figures, in the order presented, represent the twelve months of the year: 1,4,4,7,2,5,7,3,6,1,4,6. Each of these numbers represent the day of the week on which the month commences, counting from the 1st day of January, inclusive of that day. The second, third and eleventh are represented by the figure 4 if January comes on Monday. Then the first day of the months represented by the figure 4 will be on Thursday, and so on of the other months.

It will be more easily remembered presented as follows: January and October come on the same day. February, March and November, four after. Wessy

April is but seven and May is but two.
June always five—you will find to be true;
Then July is seven, August is three,
September and the twelfth are six—you can see.

During leap year, after February, the first day of January should be excluded and count from the day of the week on which the second day of January occurs. The day of the week on which each month commences being thus ascertained, we know the first, eighth, fifteenth, twenty-second and twenty-ninth are the same.

These facts and figures being once impressed on the mind, which will require but a few minutes, every man carries his almanac in his head. D. E. THOMAS.

BISHOP LYNCH, of Charleston, thus concludes an answering address to his Clergy and Laity who called to congratulate him on his return from Europe:

Much still remains to be done. Prosperity has not yet returned to gladden our land. There is still poverty and distress, and hence it is that we shall still have to seek aid from abroad, and will have again to absent myself from the diocese.

I pray that prosperity may soon return, and I am sure that every Catholic man, woman and child will gladly unite in fulfilling the duty of gratitude to God and in building up his house.

We have a work before us. We have widows and orphans and poor among ourselves. We have to provide for them, and beyond that, we have a vast multitude recently placed in liberty, but who are not yet free with the freedom of the Church of God. To them we must labor to impart the light of true faith. The work may be difficult, but the Apostles found their work difficult. No nation, no people ever yet was gathered into the fold of the Catholic Church save at the expense of labor, of difficulties, of martyrdom. Ireland is the only exception in the entire history of the Church. I feel bound before Almighty God to labor for this work, and I feel sure that even in a temporal order the spread of Catholicity has a salutary influence among them will bring much good, and remove many of the dangers which now threaten our social condition. We must not be discouraged because of our own weakness, for the Apostles were weak, and it has ever pleased God in His divine providence to choose the things that are weak to perform the greatest works of his power.

THE LORD'S DAY.

BY SIR L. BULWER LYTTON.

Fresh glides the brook and blows the gale,
Yet yonder halts the quiet mill!
The whirling wheel, the rushing sail,
How motionless and still!

Six days of toil, poor child of Cain,
They strength the wave and curse the land may be;
The seventh thy limbs escape the chain—
A God hath made them free!

Ah, tender was the Law that gave
To Israel's captive the respite,
To breathe the gale, to watch the wave,
And know—the wheel may rest!

But when the waves, the gentlest, glide,
What insane charms to lift thine eyes?
The spire reflected on the tide
Invites thee to the skies.

To teach the soul its nobler worth
This rest from mortal toil is given;
Go, snatch the brief reprieve from earth,
And pass a guest to heaven.

They tell thee in their dreaming school,
Of Power from old dominion hurled,
When rich and poor, and lord and ruler rule,
Shall share the altered world.

Alas! since time itself began,
That fable hath but fooled the hour;
Each age that ripens Power in Man,
But subjects Man to Power.

Yet every day in seven, at least,
One bright republic shall be known;
Man's world a while has surely ceased,
When God proclaims His own!

Six days may rank divide the poor,
O Dives, from the banquet hall;
The seventh the Father opes the door,
And holds His feast for all.

WONDERS OF THE MICROSCOPE.

Here is a description of that which many persons have never seen—a microscopic photograph:

It is a piece of glass with a small circle cut by a diamond. The dot in the center is so small that the sharpened point of the pencil I have in my hand, suffices to hide it altogether. It may be a speck or blemish in the glass, but no, I read on the slip of paper, the name, "Langenheim, Chestnut street," and so in faith, put it under Zentmayer's powerful microscope. What does it reveal? Simply that on that space covering the one six hundreth part of a square inch, seven thousand eight hundred and fifty letters have been photographed, each one five thousandth part of a square inch long, and that these form the whole of the Declaration of Independence, and not Declaration only, but the portraits of the different Presidents, and the coats of arms of the original thirteen States. If this is not multum in parvo we would like to know what is.

IN ancient times there stood in the citadel of Athens three statues of Minerva. The first was of olive-wood, and, according to popular tradition had fallen from heaven. The second was of bronze, commemorating the victory of Marathon; and the third of gold and ivory—a great miracle of art, in the age of Pericles. And thus in the citadel of Time stands man himself. In childhood, shaped of soft and delicate wood, just fallen from heaven; in manhood a statue of bronze, commemorating struggle and victory; and, lastly, in the maturity of age, perfectly shaped in gold and ivory—a miracle of art.

WORD AND DEED.

The world is rife with nobler thought
Than trembles on the tongue;
The world is full of melody,
Unwritten and unsung.
The music of a march is sweet—
But nothen is sublime—
And each may live a nobler verse
Than e'er was told in rhyme.

Sweep from my sight these foolish books
That vex my weary brain,
And I will sit at Virtue's feet—
Her open page the plain—
And read a pleasant roundelay
In every lisle she grows;
A lyric in the lily's leaf,
An epic in the rose!

Let tinklings of the tongue or pen
To love-sick girls belong—
The music of a well spent life
Is sweeter far than song.
I like not this world of words—
Our world were not so dead,
If minds and hearts would cease to write,
And live their verse instead!

Sometimes it is all gladness and sunshine, and heaven itself lies not far off. And then it changes suddenly, and is dark and sorrowful, and clouds shut out the sky. In the lives of the saddest of us, there are bright days like this, when we feel as if we could take the great world in our arms. Then comes the gloomy hours, when the fire will neither burn on our hearths nor in our hearts; and all without and within is dismal, cold and dark. Believe me, every heart has its secret sorrows which the world knows not, and oftentimes we call a man cold when he is only sad.

Some feelings are quite untranslated No language has yet been found for them. They gleam upon us beautifully through the dim twilight of fancy, and yet, when we bring them close to us, and hold them up to the light of reason, lose their beauty, all at once; as glow worms, which gleam with such splendor at light in the shadows of evening, when brought in where the candles are lighted, are found to be only worms, like so many others.

The setting of a great hope is like the setting of the sun. The brightness of our life is gone. Shadows of evening fall around us, and the world seems but a dim reflection—itself a broader shadow. We look forward into the coming lonely night. The soul withdraws into itself. Then stars arise, and the night is holy.

Fatal Railroad Accident.

We find the following item in the Cincinnati Commercial of the 20th inst.:

The wife of Professor Wise, late of Tenhessee, was killed on Tuesday last at Chelsea, Michigan, by being run over by a passing train. In attempting to cross the track, she was caught by some portion of her dress, causing her to fall. Before she could recover the engine struck and threw her into the air, and falling before the train she was run over and terribly mangled.

IS CHICAGO, ladies of refinement never think of reading the daily papers, and if they have occasion to look at one they do so where no one can see them, for they would compromise their respectability if they should be detected in so doing.

A CONDUCTOR of a newspaper, speaking of a cotemporary, says: "He was formerly a member of Congress, but rapidly rose till he obtained a respectable position as an editor—a noble example of perseverence under depressing circumstances."

[WESTERN ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORTS.]

WASHINGTON, October 26.—The following is a return of the cotton crop for 1867, taken from the bureau of statistics; Returns are from 484 divisions—several yet to hear from—and show that 5,067,625 acres had been planted in cotton, and that the estimated yield is 1,568,357 bales of 450 pounds each, equal to 1,764,401 bales of 400 pounds each, the latter being the weight assumed in the census drawn. They are drawn as low, yet includes middling white in the phraseology. Congress at its last session tried to change it, but the President pocketed the bill.

HAVANA, October 25.—Advices from Belize to the 20th state that Governor Austin has been relieved on account of illegal authority shown to emigrants from the Southern States, in giving them crown lands. All grants made by him have been annulled by the British Government; and James Landon has been appointed his successor as Governor of Honduras.

An arrival from Hayti brings intelligence that the rebellion against the authority of Solnave has ended. The Haytien army assaulted the stronghold of the rebels near the frontier of St. Domingo on the 10th inst., and on the following day carried the place with the bayonet. The revolutionists fled into St. Domingo. The Haytien Government has since issued a proclamation suspending the state of siege.

LATE NEWS.

—It is agreed on all hands, that no Cabinet changes are to occur, and that nothing will be done on impeachment till the middle of the next month.

—Chief Justice Carter, of the District Supreme Court at Washington, has announced that the cases in which lawyer Bradley, who was debarred by Judge Fisher, is engaged as counsel, would not be taken up until his status was determined by the full bench.

—The City of Mexico correspondence, Sept. 30th, says the returns of the election from the interior indicate the success of the Juarez ticket. Corona and Escobedo have declared their preference for Juarez. Admiral Tegethoff was still in the city. The body of Maximilian was being embalmed.

—A Panama letter says: The secret treaty with Peru, made in August, 1866, has been disapproved by the present Columbian Government, and it has been returned to Peru, in return for the Peruvian Government at Washington.

—Complaint is made to the Administration that Minister Adams has neglected to urge the British Government for the release of John Nagle and Timothy Deasy, two Fenians, without charge or trial, in prison in England. From official sources it is learned that Sir Frederick Bruce, just prior to his death, upon a suggestion from the President and Secretary McCulloch, recommended the release of these two men, and our Government has appealed to the British authorities for the immediate consideration of all arrests of Fenians who claim to be citizens of this country, and for the discharge at once of all against whom no valid charge of violation of laws can be established.

—The Dale silk mill, at Patterson, has been attached by the Government, the owners having, as the revenue officials allege, defrauded the revenue of $16,000 by making false returns in 1865 and 1866. The mill is most extensive, is to be kept running, in charge of an agent of the Government.

—It having come to the knowledge of the Secretary of the Treasury that the proprietors of one of the bonded warehouses in New York, known as a general order store, had charged an importer excessive rates for carriage, storage, etc., on goods sent from the importing vessel to such store, he has directed the Collector to require the proprietors to return the excess charged to the importer, and to inform them that a repetition of the offense will carry with it the penalties attached upon them by the Government.

—The National Democratic Resident Committee have issued a call for a meeting at the Metropolitan Hall, in New York, on November 1st, as preliminary movements to the Presidential campaign.

—About twenty members of Congress are in Washington on special committee duty, or engaged in looking after quarters for the session. The Capitol is nearly in readiness for the meeting on the 29th proximo, and the Departments are also very busy in getting up the annual reports. Public interest seems centered wholly to the coming session, and the November elections.

—The Maryland Investigation Committee heard the evidence of Lieut.-Gov. Cox, and a number of other witnesses. Congressman Phelps, of Baltimore, made application to be present with the Committee and examine witnesses, but was refused.

—Rembrandt was dining one day with a friend, when it was discovered that there was no mustard, and the servant was sent for some. Rembrandt, having little confidence in the servant's effort to make haste, laid a wager that he could etch the view from the dining room window before the servant returned. He took up a plate, tried his etching-point upon it, sketched the view and won his bet. The engraving is a very rare one, and a single copy of it recently sold for nearly a hundred dollars.

ROBERT A. MOON,
Cotton Factor
—AND—
COMMISSION MERCHANT,
No. 276 Front Street,
MEMPHIS, TENN.

LIBERAL ADVANCES—Supplies at Wholesale Prices. Commission for selling Cotton, One Dollar per Bale.

To the Cotton Planters of West Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas:

The undersigned respectfully tenders his services as agent or the sale of your cotton in this city, and for the purchase of your supplies. The unfortunate termination of the late war, which so materially affected the best interests of the South, has also had its effect upon the Commission Business of this city, as transacted between planter and merchant. You doubtless well remember with what pertinacity (previous to the war), amounting in some instances to annoyance, you were solicited for your business at the rate of fifty cents per bale commission, free of drayage, and stored for twelve months without charge. Then (as will be again) the producer was the ruling element, and high rents, rich landlords and merchants were the result of planters' patronage. No people or occupation have been more seriously prostrated than planters and planting, and none so much deserve to be fostered and aided in their unfortunate changed condition. How that aid so much needed has been meted out you alone too well know. Onerous government taxes in general, and a special tax upon your leading production, Cotton, large profits on every article you had to pay upon supplies furnished, commissions on sales ranging from $3 50 to $5 per bale, monthly storage at exorbitant prices, and other expenses, as per reference to your account sales, as a sum total will leave you but little if anything upon which to build your shattered fortunes, or to compete with the new order of affairs—free labor. When I withdrew from the Cotton and Commission Business in 1860, private reasons then led me to believe that I would never engage in it again. The solicitations of many friends that were former patron-, and a desire to promote the interest of the planting community, so far as my humble efforts can do so, and the apparent want of gratitude exhibited to a community that in times past tended so materially to the prosperity of Memphis and its mercantile community, has determined me again to offer my services in the capacity as stated. The reduced stocks of cottons in the United States and short supplies in the hands of New England manufacturers has caused some advance in prices from the late depression, hence early sales may be prudent and remunerative; such was the case the past two seasons, and many planters have had cause to regret the selling upon the too common practice of holding and drawing upon their cottons. I would advise no planter to send forward his cotton unless he wished it sold upon the first active market. It can be held at home much cheaper than in Memphis. My charges for selling cotton will be One Dollar per bale. Insurance effected in all cases if not instructed to the contrary. I shall buy your supplies from wholesale houses, giving you the benefit of same; in short, by strict attention to all the departments of our business, I hope to merit a large share of patronage.

Very respectfully,

SECOND DRAWING
—OF THE—
Southern Asylum
LAND COMPANY,
TO TAKE PLACE AT HERNANDO, MISS.,
AUGUST, 1867.

THE First Drawing, which took place at Hernando, Miss., on the 15th inst., was attended with unusual success, when it is remembered that but a few weeks elapsed from the inception of the enterprise to that event. $17,000 worth of tickets having been sold, a like amount of property was drawn for, under the supervision of gentlemen selected by the ticket-holders present. The utmost harmony and good feeling pervaded those present, and, as will be seen from the following subjoined certificate of the Managers, the affair was conducted to a close in a most gratifying and satisfactory manner:

HERNANDO, MISS., June 15, 1867.

We hereby certify that the above report of the First Drawing of the Southern Asylum is correct, and that the proceedings were characterized by aspirit of fairness and harmony surpassed by any Drawing of which we have any knowledge. The Managers of the Company placed the tickets and wheels under our sole management and control.

Signed: E. MORGAN,
ROBERT TEMPLE,
V. A. METHENEY,

Committee.

J. M. HALL, Clerk.

The Prizes drawn on this occasion numbered Forty-seven, and comprised lots in the vicinity of Memphis, Tenn., Holly Springs, Miss., and Hernando, Miss., deeds to which have been made to the lucky ticket-holders. For this, the Second Drawing, however, we will be able to offer our patrons still more attractive inducements to invest themselves in our scheme. From a lengthy list of property, a few of which are already been advertised to the public, we select the following:

THE PAST TEACHING THE PRESENT AND THE FUTURE.

PART II.

SINCE SECESSION.

Quem Jupiter vult perdere, dementat prius.

Inter magnam urbem et nullam, una nox interfuit.

THE CONFEDERATE CONSTITUTION.

Secession was an armed protest against the Northern construction of the Constitution. Argument had been exhausted, and the parties came to blows. The movement, the war that followed, and the conduct of affairs during the war, are not only a part of the History of the century, but an instructive commentary on the Constitution, being part of the practice under it.

That the possibility of Secession was not believed in by the North; that it wholly mistook the temper of the South and the questions, at bottom, in issue; that the South dreamed that it would be allowed to secede in peace, and that the Democratic party of the North would sympathize with it and prevent the use of force; that it wholly failed to appreciate the vast influence upon the public mind of the North, of the idea of the Union and reverence for the flag; that cotton was supposed to be King, and foreign intervention in behalf of the South certain; that bankruptcy and universal discontent in the North were believed inevitable; and that it was the general opinion in the South that the Southern man could whip five Northern ones, all are matters fraught with instructive and profitable lessons. If the world learns nothing from them, so much the worse for the world. Whether we ourselves have learned anything, by which we shall profit, is extremely doubtful. The errors of men benefit others, as examples: but rarely themselves.

Although the Confederate States did not succeed in winning their independence, the Constitution framed for them and intended to remedy the defects of that of the United States will always be instructive; because it must be supposed to embody the ideas of the leading minds of the South, and because it was, as an improvement on that, a signal failure.

It was really as far from effecting its purpose, as the Federal Constitution, and possessed the same great and fatal defects. It opened the way to the same assumptions and usurpations of power by the General Government. It left open and unsettled the same dangerous questions.

The rank usurpations of power by the Confederate Congress, President and Generals, and their encroachments upon, their total overthrow of, the rights of the States, in a war waged to establish those rights, will be always and equally instructive to the world, although these States are subjugated. We do not think the history of the world contains anything more singular and striking, more worthy to be studied, more replete with great and grave lessons.

Therefore, although these States, overpowered and crushed, are now Provinces under Military Despots, we still publish what we began to write before defeat. When we began it, we hoped it would be thereafter useful to our people. It may benefit the people of the Northern States, if they are not too fully committed to, too much enamored with, their errors. Some other people may, at some time, endeavour to establish a free Government, under a written Constitution; and then the errors of the men of the present day may serve as warnings and afford profitable lessons.

The Confederate Constitution, like the struggle, and the usurpations of government and generals, is a fact. It was a law to the people of the eleven States for more than three years. The usurpations were committed by the agents of those States, in a struggle for State sovereignty; and committed against the States themselves.

Moreover, it so little differs from the Federal Constitution, that what is to be said of one applies for the most part to the other. Essential difference, indeed, there is none. One merely expresses the same sense, a little more distinctly than the other. The Confederate Constitution is the more instructive, only because the experience of seventy-eight years has developed so plainly in practice the defects of its prototype, that not to have avoided them only marks more strongly the incapacity of men to provide a government for themselves, and proves that such governments must grow, like that of England, and cannot be manufactured like cotton-gins.

The defects of the old Constitution, and its chief peculiarities, and all its compromises, grew, as we have shown, out of, 1st, the fact that it was the fruit of a struggle between the large and small States: 2d, that part of the States recognized property in slaves, and part did not: 3d, that part of the States desired to continue the slave-trade, and part were averse to it: and 4th, that part of them, engaged in navigation, wanted the carrying-trade, while the Southern States were strictly agricultural. The Confederate States made a Constitution under totally different circumstances. They were a homogeneous people, with the same interests and pursuits. There were no jealousies, no rivalries among them. There was no basis, with them, for the compromises of the old constitution. There was no reason why they could not avoid its defects. They knew the evils of the Presidential elections, Senatorial dependence, the decadence of the Judiciary. Nothing prevented their settling all disputed questions. Neither ambition, fanaticism or commercial greed was there, to insist on advantages, and traffic for compromises, as in 1787.

How much wisdom was displayed by the Congress that framed the Constitution? Did they settle forever the well-known, dangerous, disputed questions? Did they follow out to the end their own theory that the Constitution is a compact between the States? Did they do enough or anything, to secure permanency for the Government, and stability and consistency in measures? Did they make a Government sufficient for war as well as for peace?

The Confederate Constitution declared that it was made by the STATES and that these were the only parties to it; but it by no means settled what was the nature of the Government created by it. Was it a mere league of the States, of the same nature as a commercial partnership? That is the meaning of the word 'Confederate;' but also of 'Federate' and 'Federal.' If it was but a league, then, if debts were created, the States, each as a political corporation, owed them in solido, each being bound for the whole.

And it may hereafter become a very grave question, whether Virginia, for example, is not bound for the redemption of every bond and treasury-note issued,—a question well worth trying by the holders of the cotton-bonds sold in England. Are sovereign States relieved of debts contracted by them jointly, because their joint government proves a failure? It is true, first the President of the United States, and then Congress, have declared all the legislation of Virginia to no secession to be null and void; but they will hardly succeed in obtaining an affirmance of that decision by any respectable Court. And they have forced the Southern States to repudiate their honest debts; but foreign Courts will hold that an impotent act of rascality.

Or were the Confederate States a corporation, a body politic and corporate,—itself, and not the States jointly or severally, owing the debts? It is hardly possible to imagine a more important question.

Others, more or less dangerous, had arisen under the Constitution of the United States, and for the most part remained unsettled, some capable of judicial solution, some only to be settled by compromise or war. Many of them may hereafter divide the North. The following among others, were still debateable and open, when the labor of making the Confederate Constitution was undertaken.

The whole doctrine of allegiance and treason, the nature of each, the manner in which a citizen of a State owes allegiance to the United States, and whether through his State, and the other States jointly, or by a higher, a paramount and an independent obligation; and whether he can be guilty of treason against the United States in any other way, than by being guilty of it against his own State, jointly with the others: in other words, whether allegiance is not always due by the citizen to his State, either alone or jointly with the others; and whether treason is not always treason against the State, either alone or jointly with the others?

Was the right of peaceable withdrawal from the Union reserved or retained by each State, either for gross violations of the Constitution by other States, or for other causes, or at pleasure?

If a State had the right to secede, and exercised it, did the act so bind all her citizens, and was it in law so the act of every citizen, as that none could elect to adhere to the United States, if war ensued, without being guilty of treason against his State?

Could the Federal Government use force against a seceding or refractory State?

If a State resisted the power of the Federal Government, claiming to be no longer in the Union, could her citizens be justly treated as rebels?

Could a State, remaining in the Union, nullify within her borders an unconstitutional or oppressive act of Congress?

Could an amendment to the Constitution be made by two-thirds of the States, abolishing slavery in all, without or even with compensation to the owners: and if such an amendment were made, could those States that voted against it, refuse longer to remain in the Union?

How far could special powers be justly deemed to be included in the grant of a general power?

Could a foreign State be admitted as a State, into the Union, by act of Congress?

Could the Federal Government acquire foreign territory by purchase?

What powers of Government could the Congress exercise over the people of a Territory or Province? Was that power of government granted by the provision that it should have power to make all needful rules and regulations in respect to the territory and other property of the United States? Could it govern such Provinces, conquered or purchased, by officers with Proconsular powers, or must it establish in each a republican form of government? Could it govern them permanently as Provinces, or only as States in embryo?

How much Popular Sovereignty was possessed by the inhabitants of such Territories or Provinces? What powers of self-government were inherent in them? How far, if at all, was the Constitution of the United States a law for the people of such Provinces or Territories, or a guarantee of rights to them? Could they form a State Constitution when they pleased, without any permission of Congress to do so, and, with that Constitution demand admission as a State? Could they elect Senators and Representatives before they were admitted? Were they States before admission, and, if so, with what rights and powers; or did they only become States by and upon admission?

What was the status of persons in a Territory, who had never been citizens of any State? Could they commit treason against the United States? Could foreigners not naturalized be allowed to vote there? Did the people of a conquered or purchased country become citizens of the United States by such conquest or or purchase? Did foreigners not naturalized, residing in a Territory, become citizens of the United States by the admission of the Territory as a State?

Did a citizen of a State, removing to a Territory or Province, lose his citizenship in the State from which he removed?

Was a Territory or Province within or a part of the United States, or a foreign possession?

Could Indians, in a State or Territory, be made citizens of the United States by Treaty or by act of Congress?

Could a person of African descent be a citizen of the United States?

Could the provision of the Constitution for the delivering up of slaves escaping into a State, be regarded as applying to a Territory, or to the Indian country?

When a slave escaped from one State into another, was the State in which he took refuge, at liberty to refuse the aid of her courts, magistrates, officers and process to aid the owner to reclaim him? Could she refuse the use of her jails and punish her citizens if they aided such owner? Was the provision that such slave should be delivered up, a provision on the part of the State that she would deliver up the slave; or was her duty fulfilled when she did nothing to prevent the owner from taking him if he could; or when she churlishly interposed her huge bulk inertly between him and his slave?

If territory was acquired by conquest or purchase, where was the proprietorship of the lands? If in the United States as legal owner, in what character did they hold them, and on what trusts, and how should the proceeds of sales be disposed of?

In what did citizenship of the United States consist? Could any one become a citizen, except by being or becoming a citizen of some State?

Could a particular State require a longer residence, or the performance of other acts, or the possession of other qualifications, than those required by the uniform rules of naturalization established by Congress, to enable a foreigner to become a citizen of such State? Or could Congress only prescribe the minimum of such qualifications?

What are the privileges and immunities of a citizen, which a citizen of one State is to enjoy, when removing into another State?

Could a State require greater or higher qualifications, to entitle a citizen to vote for members of Congress, or for President, than those requisite to enable him to vote for members of the most numerous branch of the State Legislature?

Could a State permit foreigners not naturalized to vote for members of Congress, for members of a Legislature by which a Senator was to be elected, or for electors for President and Vice-President?

Could a State accept free negroes as citizens, and allow them to vote for members of Congress and Presidential Electors?

What rights of a native-born citizen would a naturalized one possess? Would the United States claim him of his native country, if after being naturalized he returned there temporarily? If, remaining in the United States, he were reclaimed by his native country, would the claim be admitted? How far would the United States protect a person not naturalized, but who had taken the preliminary steps to become so?

How far were the other departments and officers bound by a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States on a Constitutional question?

Could Congress lay an embargo, without declaring war?

Could it constitutionally re enact the Alien and Sedition laws?

Could Congress incorporate a bank?

Could it define and provide for the punishment of any other offences than those as to which power was specially granted?

Could it raise an army otherwise than by voluntary enlistment? Could it force citizens into the regular army by draft or conscription?

Could it engage in a general system of internal improvements? Could it improve the navigation of a river, running its whole length within a single State?

Could it build a railroad to the Pacific?

Could it make anything except gold and silver a legal tender in payment of debts?

Could it pass laws impairing the obligation of contracts?

Would an act of Congress against natural equity be void?

Could an ad valorem tax be at any time levied, on all property, or particular kinds of property, in all the States?

Could a General declare martial law, and so make his own will the only law, over a whole State?

Is there any other Martial law, than that contained in the articles of war, and the acts of Congress?

Could any Military Tribunal whatever take jurisdiction, either of offences not defined by the Military law enacted by Congress, or of persons not belonging to or following the army?

Can any pretended public necessity, in time of war, dispense with the constitutional safeguards of property, liberty and life?

Is it within the constitutional power of Congress to legitimize usurpations, violations of the Constitution, murders done by Military Commissions, and other invasions of the constitutional rights of the citizen?

Is the provision that the writ of Habeas Corpus shall only be suspended in certain cases, a grant to the General Government of the power to suspend it, whenever Congress or the President may choose to say that the necessity exists?

If it be a grant, is the power vested in the Executive, or can it only be exercised by Congress; or can the Congress delegate it to the President, and he to his Generals?

If the necessity does not exist, can the judicial power so declare?

Can a State Legislature or Executive suspend the privilege of the writ, at pleasure, within the State, or is the provision of the Constitution a limitation of such power?

If Congress can suspend the privilege of the writ, does it possess the power to suspend the privilege of the State writ, so as to prevent the Courts of the States as well as of the United States, from issuing the writ?

Can a State Court discharge, upon Habeas Corpus, a person held by warrant from a Federal Court, Officer or Judge, or by order of an officer of the army of the United States?

Can the Secretary of State arrest citizens by despatch transmitted by telegraph, and imprison them without trial?

Can a Star-Chamber or an Inquisition be established by the United States, and the use of torture revived, as a military necessity?

Can a Federal Judge discharge a person held by warrant of a State Court, Magistrate or officer?

Are the laws constitutionally silent, or is the Constitution itself suspended, amid arms?

Can an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States be constitutionally allowed, from a decision of the highest Court of a State?

Can the property of rebels be confiscated, by Executive proclamation or act of Congress, or only as a consequence of conviction upon a trial for treason in a proper Court and before a jury.

Only two or three of these important and dangerous questions were settled by the Confederate Constitution, and these the least important of all. They were still left open, for parties to form upon, although it was proven that they could only be settled by civil war. Take, for example, the question of citizenship. If a single human being could constitutionally be made a citizen of the United States, otherwise than by becoming a citizen of a State, the whole Southern theory of the Government was wrong: and the States were not the only parties to the Constitutional compact.

It was correctly said by GOUVERNEUR MORRIS, that the language of the Constitution was to be construed with reference to its general purpose and object. But unfortunately, the very question disputed as to that Constitution was, what were its general purpose and object? Was its purpose to create a National Government, as understood by those who urged the Virginia plan, or a Federal one, as insisted on by the small States and New York? On one hand, the commentators and the authors of it contended that it was meant to be a National Government, a government proper, acting on individuals, with Federal features: on the other, that it was a Federal compact, creating a Government with nations features. The juste milieu held that it was part National and part Federal.

Nor is it to be forgotten, that the Constitution may remain the same in letter, while an unwritten one grows up by the side of it, in practice, and in the end denaturalizes it. A single inconsistent or equivocal clause, even as to a minor or collateral matter, is enough to found an erroneous practice on, and to become the root of the creed of a party; and tacit consent, an error perpetuated, or the success of a party, may establish principles at variance with the very essence of the Constitution.

[WESTERN ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORTS.]

WASHINGTON, October 26.—Gen. Thomas' report to Gen. Grant on the subject of the municipal election at Nashville, will be published on Monday. It comprises the correspondence, by telegraph, between officers, in reply to inquiries respecting his duty. Gen. Grant explicitly informed Gen. Thomas that his duty was to prevent collision. If Brownlow should issue an order declaring insurrection or invasion to exist, and too formidable to be put down by State troops, and ask aid from the United States, then aid should be given. Gen. Thomas was not to interfere or meddle in political differences, but if thus called on legally to interfere, his duty was plain. The conclusion of the report is in Thomas' own language: "The election is over; all quiet."

The President has issued a proclamation recommending that the 28th day of November be observed as a day of national thanksgiving.

The monthly debt statement for the present month will show a contraction of $4,000,000 currency.

Fractional currency printed during the week, $572,320; shipped, $572,644. National bank currency issued, $24 890; currency redeemed and destroyed, $337,800. Receipts for customs for week ending 19th, $2,895,768.

Receipts of internal revenue for the week are $2,990,272, for the fiscal year to date $67,789,900.

ATLANTA, October 26.—14 colored delegates are elected to the Alabama convention.

LOUISVILLE, October 26.—River on a stand.

NEW ORLEANS, October 26.—Yellow fever interments 12. Heavy rain; weather cool.

RICHMOND, October 27.—The official returns indicate the election of 30 Conservative and 60 Radicals, 18 of the latter elected. Sixty-five counties give 70,777 for and 449,950 against the Convention. A number of counties yet to be heard from. The polls closed in Richmond at one o'clock Thursday morning, with 406 majority for Humnicut.

Mr. Gilmer's protest holds that the clause of the supplemental bill which provides that thirty day's public notice shall be given of the time of holding elections, limits the general to the time designated in his order. He also denounces the shameless frauds brought about by Col. Raze, superintendent of elections.

Considerable excitement is caused by the fact of two citizens of Richmond, one a prominent tobacco manufacturer, being ordered by a vigilance committee of negroes to leave the city in forty-eight hours. Their offence was violent opposition to the Radical ticket.

RICHMOND, October 26.—John H. Gilmer filed with Gen. Schofield a formal protest, as a resident of Richmond, against the counting of any vote recorded at any precinct after sunset on Wednesday evening.

LONDON, October 29—Evening.—Fenian trials are in progress at Manchester. The trial of Grove is completed—verdict, not guilty. Mugridge, who confessed that he shot O'Donnell, was discharged after a short examination, there being no doubt in the mind of the Court but that he was hopelessly insane. The trials of the Fenians imprisoned at Dublin will begin on Monday. Gen. Farrold has declined the service of counsel and will defend himself. It is reported that a mob hailing from Dungarron has turned State's evidence.

LONDON, October 26.—The Times editorially commends the determination of the Government and people of the United States in resolving to pay the national debt and interest in gold.

No quotations received from America. Consols, 94⅜; 5-20s, 68⅛; Illinois Central, 79; Erie, 45½; Atlantic and Great Western, 25½.

The news from Italy to-day is startling. Dispatches say Garibaldi is marching on Rome in two columns in different directions. The column under his immediate control had arrived at Monte Retando, a few miles of and in sight of the Holy City. The Papal troops were retiring slowly, but contesting every inch of ground.

Bognora was again captured, and is now held by the Garibaldians.

The Semi-official Journals are unanimously of the opinion that the Italian affairs are worse than when Napoleon planned the French expedition in the interest of the Pope.

FLORENCE, October 25.—Gen. Cialdini to whom was intrusted the formation of the present ministry, has taken decided grounds against its present instruction. In official communication he says he regards the retention of Ratazzi to the prime ministership as conducive to the best interest of the nation.

PARIS, October 25.—Evening—Dispatches state that Garibaldi has gathered a large force around him and is ready to pass the papal frontier Civita Vecchia is in a state of siege.

CARLSRUHE, October 25.—The diete of Baden to-day by a large majority sanctioned the North Solverein and adopted a proposed alliance with Prussia.

LONDON, October 25.—At the New Market races, Houghton meeting, the £500 sweepstake was won by Typhoeus, the £25 by Ploughboy, and Montone stake by Dastman.

BIRTH.

GRINDROD—Yesterday, the wife of Robert Grindrod, of a son.

MARRIED.

HEWITT—MAURY.—Married, on the evening of the 23d October, at Christ Church, Louisville, Ky., by the Rev. Mr. Thayer, EDWIN B. HEWITT to Miss ABBA MAURY.

Thus we perceive one of the fairest daughters of the Falls City has been deprived of her single blessedness by engaging in wedlock and that connubial bliss known only to those who have been united in the holy bonds of matrimony. We heartily congratulate our young friend Hewitt on having secured so beautiful and so lovely a bride, and trust their course through life may be both prosperous and delightful, and their pathway be always strewn with roses.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

The friends and acquaintances of S. B. WILLIAMSON and family are respectfully invited to attend the funeral of D. A. WILLIAMSON, from the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, Court street, this, Sunday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. Services by the Rev. Dr. Ford.

The friends and acquaintances of Dr. THOMAS J. HALE are respectfully invited to attend his funeral, from his residence, No. 159 Madison street, this, Sunday morning, at 11 o'clock.

The friends and acquaintances of J. F. Dowdy are respectfully invited to attend the funeral of his eldest daughter, DASHA IRENE, from his residence, on Hernando road, this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

BOOK AGENTS WANTED

To solicit orders for a new

Illustrated Bible Dictionary,

(COMPLETE IN ONE VOLUME,)

Edited by Dr. WM. SMITH, Classical Examiner of the University of London.

THE Dictionary embodies the results of the most recent study, research and investigation, of about sixty-five of the most eminent and advanced Biblical scholars now living. Clergymen of various denominations approve it, and regard it as the best work of its kind in the English language, and one which ought to be in the hands of every Bible reader in the land.

In circulating this work, agents will find a pleasant and profitable employment. The numerous opinions which are usually encountered in selling ordinary works will not exist with this. But on the contrary, encouragement and friendly aid will attend the agent, making his labor agreeable, useful and lucrative.

Ladies, Clergymen, School Teachers, Farmers, Students and all others who possess energy are wanted to assist in canvassing every town and county in the country, to whom the most liberal inducements will be offered.

SUCCESSORS TO

Messrs. NIPGEN & REAKIRT, and of JOHN A. NIPGEN, No. 318 Main street, Memphis, Tenn.

ASSOCIATED with this House are Messrs. A. H. F. Farnsworth, John C. Reakirt, Richard Brewster, James Boon, George Gourlay and others, all of whom are well and favorably known in this city and throughout the South generally, as thorough practical Druggists and correct business men of long and tried experience. And with our personal knowledge and familiarity with the wants of our numerous friends and patrons, and our strict attention to business, we are determined to make this the

Wholesale Drug Emporium

OF THE SOUTH.

We would therefore offer special inducements to dealers in this city and country generally, to favor us with their confidence, assuring them that as we import direct from foreign ports, and purchase from the original manufacturers and first-hand dealers of this country, in unbroken packages, we therefore expect to be able to offer goods in quality and at prices that will defy competition. Respectfully,

One Thing is Certain,

THAT however widely great men may differ, There is a large majority of Doctors, Lawyers and Divines throughout the South who do agree that Dr. Williams' Pulmonic Balsam of Wild Cherry and Wood Naptha is the only certain cure for Pneumonia, Asthma, Bronchitis, Diptheria, Coughs, Colds, Sore Throats, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Strength, Whooping Cough, Catarrh, Pleurisy, Difficult Breathing, and all diseases of the Chest and Lungs, and a certain and sure cure for Consumption in its early stages. That it cures all of the above enumerated diseases, is a fact beyond controversy, as there are thousands of living witnesses to-day ready to testify, who have been cured by this great discovery. Hear what some of our most eminent physicians of the South say: The distinguished Dr. Boon, of Macon, Ga., says that "in every case he has found this preparation a safe and prompt remedy for all pulmonary affections, and takes pleasure in recommending it as a reliable anodine, expectorant, etc."

Dr. Tennant, of Marietta, Ga., a physician of deservedly high reputation as an able and experienced practitioner of medicine, entertains and expresses the same opinion, and recommends it extensively in his practice.

Dr. P. M. Cohen, of Charleston, S. C., a gentleman of well known reputation, and a wholesale dealer and importer of drugs and medicines, recommends it in the highest terms, and uses it, exclusive of all other remedies, in his family, with the most satisfactory results.

And we might add even thousands of certificates of like recommendations of this medicine, all of which would only consume time in reading for no purpose, as this great medicine is too well known throughout the South, where it has been in use for the last twenty-two years, to need any further recommendation than this—that all who have used it once are not satisfied to be without it; and so great has been the demand, that it has been only recently that we have been able to make such arrangements for its manufacture as will enable us to supply the constant demands which we are daily in receipt of from leading druggists and other dealers throughout the South.

Having established our Laboratory at the well known wholesale drug house of J. R. Wasson & Co., of this city, we are now prepared to fill all orders without delay, which shall be promptly met, (to the trade only) and must be addressed to J. B. WASSON & CO.,

WHY DO YOU ASK ME THAT QUESTION, SIR?

Because one of them is needed, no doubt, and that badly, among your household conveniences, that the laborious and troublesome item of churning may become an agreeable recreation to the ladies, upon whom such duties usually devolve.

What's the article? What's the description? What's it do, pray, Sir?

Well, it is simply two screw-propeller wheels attached to the lower end of a staff or handle which is placed in the "old fashioned" wooden or tub churn, and worked in the same manner precisely as the "old Dasher"—these two wheels revolve rapidly and in counter directions at every up and down movement of the "Dasher," completely disengaging and cutting the cream into the minutest particles; while at the same

THE eminent and distinguished Doctor, Sir James Clark, Physician to Queen Victoria, and most learned and distinguished men of this age, in his treatise on Consumption, says: That Pulmonary Consumption can be cured, admits no longer of a doubt, and all eminent writers on pathological anatomy, at this present day, agree that consumption can be cured, if proper remedies are used in time; and testimony the most conclusively proves that this fatal disease must not be trifled with by using all kinds of patent medicines and quack nostrums, but like only a safe and certain cure now used throughout the South is known as "Dr. Wellcome Pulmonic Balsam of Wild Cherry and Wood Naptha," which has stood the test of more than twenty years' trial, during which time it has given the most convincing proof of its great efficacy in having arrested this most subtle and treacherous disease with thousands who are living witnesses to-day to testify to the truth of what we here state. And to the incredulous who are suffering with any pulmonary disease, no matter of how long standing, we ask you to try this medicine once, and be convinced for yourself.
Sold by all respectable Druggists throughout the South. It can also be supplied at J. B. WASSON & CO.'S Wholesale Drug House, Memphis, Tenn., to whom all orders must be addressed. oct26 1f

GRACE CHURCH.—Services at Grace Church to-day, by the rector, Rev. B. F. Brooke, at 11 o'clock a.m. and 7½ p.m. Sunday school at 9 a.m.

THE congregation worshipping at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church on Court street, are requested by the Senior to attend there this Sunday morning, at the usual hour.

LAID UP.—We were pained yesterday to learn of the illness of our efficient Deputy Sheriff Swan. It is to be hoped that he will soon make his appearance at the Greenlaw.

J. C. Eyrich, Geo. E. Rohr, Chas. Coffin, L. S. Grant and Wm. Chambers returned last evening from Nashville, where they had been attending the annual session of the Grand Division Sons of Temperance, representing the different Divisions of this city.

DISCHARGED.—The negro James Patterson, arrested on Friday, charged with attempting to commit a rape on the person of a white woman named Jane Cox, was brought before Justice Miller yesterday, and discharged, no one appearing to prosecute.

COMING BACK.—Manager Thompson, of the New Memphis Theater, received a letter from the young actor, L. P. Barrett, (who is now in London,) stating that he would return to America early in December. It is not at all improbable that he will appear here during the winter.

ON DIT.—It was rumored on the streets yesterday, that Gen. Gordon Granger and Lady Don had been united in the holy bonds of matrimony, and left on a wedding tour. From inquiry we are led to believe that the report is groundless, not being able to trace it to any reliable source.

WE LEARN that the efficient rector of Grace Church, Rev. B. F. Brooke, has received an urgent call to another Diocese. We hope that he may not deem it proper to accept the new charge, as the parish over which he now presides, and for which he has done so much, can ill afford the loss of his valuable services.

THE following telegrams remain uncalled for in the office: A. K. Gamble, Jr., R. R. Pittman, Davis & Norton, Mercer, Ware & Talley, M. Pyne, Lawrence & Carter, J. W. Jefferson & Co., Foster, Gwynn & Co., N. Greenwald—3, Hon. G. W. Waldron, Geo. G. Weidrig, Capt. Frank Hicks, W. W. White.

DISHONEST SERVANTS.—Two negro porters employed in the houses of Lludalier, Pollok & Co., and Elston Bros., were arrested yesterday by the detectives, and placed in durance vile, charged with stealing goods from their employees to the value of $44. They gave their names as Paschal Claiborn and Tim White. The accused were locked up by order of Mr. Justice Miller to await an examination, which will be held to-day.

A BENEFIT.—The proprietors of the correct rooms at No. 15 Monroe street, propose to give to the Howard Association the gross receipts of their establishment on Tuesday night. These gentlemen have ever been ready to donate to any good cause, and it is to be hoped their friends, as well as the lovers of charity, will assemble in full force at 15 Monroe street on Tuesday night, to give aid to the cause of charity

PRIZE BAT.—Passing along Main street yesterday, with a base ball friend, our attention was called to a magnificent prize bat on exhibition at the store of J. G. Moffat, No. 347. It is indeed an elegant affair, made of mahogany, and silver mounted, with a silver star set in the head. It has been proposed by two of the clubs that this bat shall be contested for before long. It is a worthy trophy, let who will win it. Moffat has also on hand some original Indian clubs, which will prove very beneficial to those desiring to increase their muscle.

BENEVOLENCE.—The following donations to the Howard Association have been received during the past week:

Enterprise Ins. Co., of Cincinnati	$100 00
Owens, McNutt & Co.	10 00
Walcott, Smith & Co.	10 00
Memphis and Cincinnati Packet Line	10 00
Harry Wellington	71 20
Geo. R. Rutter	20 00
Chas Thomas, Cashier State Savings' Ins., and others, St. Louis, Mo	391 50
Jas. C. Butler, President Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce	95 00
Gates, Wood & Co.	25 00
Total	$834 70

SECURE YOURSELVES.—In the midst of life we are in death. The every day experience of our lives but goes to prove the correctness of this saying. Knowing that life is of but short duration, at best, it is a duty that all owe to their families or surviving relatives, to provide for them in case of their demise. It costs but a small amount, and untold good is often received by a small outlay. Our old friend, McClure, who has an office at 16 Jefferson street, represents one of the best companies in the Union, and will insure on the most advantageous terms. Drop in and see him.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—An accident occured on the Memphis and Ohio railroad yesterday morning near Humboldt. Both the up and down trains got off the track. The engineer and fireman of the former were very seriously injured, while one of the passenger coaches of the latter was badly smashed up. The trains were delayed about four hours, but are now running as usual. John Donovan, President of the Citizen's Union Bank, of this city, was on the down train, but escaped unhurt. The crowded state of our columns this morning prevents the giving of further particulars.

TWO NINETY-SEVEN.—Less seven this was the number of a vessel, who was manned by a gallant crew, that dared to do what they believed to be right for the "lost cause." That these brave fellows did not succeed was no fault of theirs. They have abided by the issue, and returned to their peaceful callings, so have our neighbors Elston Bros., No. 297 Main street. After years of struggle they have succeeded in establishing a business second to no house in the city. Very many of our lady friends patronize them for the reason that their stock is well selected, and sold below the usual market rates. Ladies' dress and gents' furnishing goods, with a full and complete supply of hosiery, gloves, boots and shoes, etc., will be found at 297. Look to it.

NEW MEMPHIS THEATER.—The somewhat hackneyed and not very popular play of the Hidden Hand was produced at the New Memphis last night with Miss Melville as "Capitola," a part which she played with considerable credit to herself. The piece (like the Ledger story from which it is dramatised) is long drawn out, but does very well for a Saturday night. The singing of Miss Melville was exceedingly good and repeatedly encored. She was supported (not over and above well) by the stock. A repetition of the piece, with the same cast, would not be gratifying. To-morrow night we are to have Miss Melville in The Daughter of the Regiment. Having seen this young lady in this character before, we can safely say that in it she excels. Go and see her.

DRUGS AND MEDICINES.—Among the many drug houses for which we are so famous, none we wot of are growing more rapidly in popular estimation than that of Messrs. J. B. Wasson & Co., No. 318 Main street. Associated with this house are Messrs. H. F. Farnsworth, John C. Reskirk, Richard Brewer, C. P. Sengstack, James Boon, George Gourley, and others, all of whom are well and favorably known in this city and throughout the South generally, as thorough practical Druggists, and correct business men of long and tried experience. With their personal knowledge and familiarity as to the wants of the trade, they cannot fail to give satisfaction to their patrons and make this what it is evidently destined to be, "the drug emporium of the South." All goods sold at this house are imported direct from foreign markets, which fact gives their customers superior advantages in their purchases. 318 Main street is the place.

RELIEF FOR THE DESTITUTE.—The net proceeds of the benefit of Wednesday night last, for the widows and orphans of the city, amounting to $478 60, have been paid over by the manager to a committee, and by them placed in the hands of a committee of ladies consisting of Mrs. G. P. Foute, Mrs. T. B. Turley, Mrs. S. H. Ford, Mrs. B. A. Massey, Mrs. John Cannovan, Mrs. J. B. Steadman, and Mrs. T. D. Eldredge, for distribution. Those who purchased no ticket for the benefit, and therefore cannot congratulate themselves as having contributed their mite, to relieve and feed and warm the destitute and deserving women and helpless children of the city, may still do so by depositing with Mr. Pritchard, Cashier of the Tennessee Savings Institution, whatever sum they feel able and dispose to contribute. Whatever is so received will be disbursed by the committee of ladies; which ought, indeed, to be a permanent aid, for there is to be much distress in Memphis this coming winter.

DEATH OF JUDGE SMITH.

ACTION OF THE COVINGTON BAR.

At a meeting of the members of the Covington Bar, held in the Court House, on Thursday, the 24th day of October, 1867, to take into consideration the decease of the late Thomas G. Smith, Judge of the Law Court, of the city of Memphis, on motion H. R. Bate, Esq., was appointed Chairman, and Wm. Sanford, Esq., Secretary.

The object of the meeting being explained, Isaac M. Steele, Esq., proposed the following preamble and resolutions, except the names in the fourth and fifth resolution, which were blank, and which on motion of R. A. Sanford, Esq., were filled by the Chairman, with the names of J. H. Lauderdale, G. W. Smitheal and Isaac M. Steele; when said preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted.

WHEREAS, The sad intelligence of the death of the Hon. Thomas G. Smith, late Judge of the Law Court of the city of Memphis, has been received by the Bar of Covington, who have met for the purpose of manifesting their deep sense of his loss, their appreciation of his virtues, and their sympathy with his family in their affliction. Therefore,

1. Resolved, That we have heard with deep and unaffected sorrow of the sudden demise of the Hon. Thomas G. Smith, in the maturity of his intellectual powers, and in the zenith of his professional usefulness and honor.

2. Resolved, That in the death of Judge Smith, the Bench and the Bar of West Tennessee have lost one of their brightest ornaments, and the community one of its best citizens.

3. Resolved, That we cordially and sincerely sympathize with the family of the deceased in their sad and irreparable bereavement, and tender our condolence for the misfortune they have suffered.

4. Resolved, That J. H. Lauderdale, Esq., on behalf of this meeting, be requested to ask the Chancellor to have the proceedings thereof spread upon the minutes of the Chancery Court at this place, and that G. W. Smitheal, Esq., make the same request of the Circuit Court.

5. Resolved, That the Tipton Weekly Record, and the Memphis daily papers, be requested to publish the proceedings of this meeting; and that Isaac M. Steele, Esq., be appointed to forward a copy of the same to the family of the deceased.

On motion, the meeting then dissolved.
H. R. BATE, Chairman.
WM. SANFORD, Secretary.

W. E. ROGERS, M. D.,
Secretary Board of Health.
MEMPHIS, October 26.

DEATH OF DR. T. J. SALE—TRIBUTE OF RESPECT BY HIS PROFESSIONAL BRETHREN.—The death of Dr. T. J. Sale, one of our most valued medical men, has cast a gloom over the social circle which he adorned, and caused the fall of many a manly tear from the eyes of his professional brethren, by whom he was only known to be appreciated. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn the loss of a kind, affectionate husband and father. Regretting his loss, we are pleased to know that our deceased friend took the precaution some time since to insure his life in the Southern Life Insurance Company for ten thousand dollars. At a large meeting of the Faculty, held at the office of Dr. W. E. Rogers yesterday, the following proceedings were had:

At a meeting of members of the medical profession, held at the office of Dr. W. E. Rogers, October 26, 1867, 4 p.m., Dr. John Pittman was called to the Chair and Dr. R. W. Mitchell requested to act as Secretary. The Chairman stated that the meeting had been convened for the purpose of giving expression, in fitting terms, at the regret we feel in the demise of our late friend and brother, Dr. T. J. Sale, which sad event occurred at six o'clock this morning, at his residence on Madison street. On motion, Drs. Paul Otey, E. Woodward, W. E. Rogers and John Pittman were appointed a committee to draft suitable resolutions, and reported as follows:

WHEREAS, An Allwise Providence has in His unfathomable wisdom, removed from us by His own appointed means, our late friend and brother, Dr. T. J. Sale,

Resolved, That in our intercourse with Dr. T. J. Sale, we ever found him the kind, courteous gentleman, and the honorable and active co-laborer in his profession, and that his death creates a void that we deeply feel and sincerely mourn.

Resolved, That we truly sympathize with his afflicted wife and children in their bereavement, and pray that the God who "tempers the wind to the shorn lamb," will sustain them in this terrible night of affliction.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished the family of our deceased brother; also a copy be furnished the city press and the Nashville Medical and Surgical Journal for publication.

Resolved, That Dr. W. E. Rogers present a copy of these resolutions to the Board of Health, with the request that they be spread upon the records of the Board.

Resolved, That we as a body attend the remains of our late brother to their last resting place at Elmwood Cemetery, to-morrow at 11 o'clock a.m.

IMMENSE CONFLAGRATION.

A PORTION OF THE BRADLEY BLOCK BURNED.

Loss Estimated at $150 000.

About six o'clock last night an alarm of fire was given, caused by a volume of smoke issuing from the warehouse of Banfil & Co., in the Bradley Block. The fire was speedily extinguished without the aid of the firemen, and all was supposed to be safe. About midnight the alarm was again sounded, the cause being the same as in the first instance. The firemen were quickly on the ground, but seemed to be a long time in getting to work. The flames spread with alarming rapidity from the store of Messrs. Banfil & Co., to those of J. K. Moody, commission merchant, and R. P. Walt & Co. The Ice House of M. Pyne & Co., was at one time in imminent danger, but was fortunately saved from destruction. The stock of H. R. Downs & Co. was considerably damaged by water. After the fire had been raging about an hour the walls of the northern portion of the block fell with a tremendous crash. It is difficult to get at the loss correctly, but we feel safe in estimating it at $150,000, which is mostly covered by insurance. The burning of this building will be seriously felt in our business circles, as it is the most severe fire we have had since the burning of the buildings on Howard's row some months since.

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

The weather yesterday was dark and gloomy, but not cool enough for frost. The stage of the rivers remain about as they were at our last. Capt. Crane, of the Ed. Tracey, reports the channel at Phillip's as having cut out along the Kentucky shore to five and a half feet large. At Hat Island there is six feet, and the channel runs close to the Illinois shore.

Arrivals.

Steamer H. M. Shreve, Vicksburg.

Boats in Port.

Pilgrim, Myrtle, City of Cairo.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Commercial was but slightly injured and got away for White river last night at a late hour after being repaired. She had to refuse freight early in the day and left with all she could carry on the water.

Capt. Mike Pyne, of the St. Patrick, who returned from St. Louis on Tuesday last, has been ill but was out again to-day. He reports the Wild Irishman in a forward state of repair, and will have her here in about two weeks.

The Rubicon reported the Cairo hard aground just below St. Louis. She will no doubt be found at the landing this morning.

The swift and elegant Belle Memphis, Capt. Musselman, with Geo. Deane in the office, will leave for St. Louis as usual on Monday evening at 5 p.m.

The Henry Ames, with Frank Hicks in command, will be in port to night and will leave for New Orleans and way points on Wednesday next.

The gay little Myrtle, all bedecked with new paint and gilded in the finest manner, will leave on Wednesday next for all points on the Yazoo. Bill Hardwick is master.

The Virginia is the New Orleans packet for this evening. Capt. Drouillard is master.

It will be seen by reference to another column that Mr. Isaac Brackin has put a wharfboat at Friar's Point for the accommodation of the people of that region. It was much needed, and will no doubt prove remunerative to the energetic and well known proprietor.

The Geo. W. Palmer was advertised to leave New Orleans on Thursday last for White river.

The Pilgrim did not get away last evening. She lays over until Tuesday next, when she will positively depart for Pine Bluff. Capt. Tom. Berry is master.

The gallant City of Cairo, of which the no less gallant Bob Riley is master was detained by low water, but will leave to-day on her return to Cairo and St. Louis at 10 a.m. She is one of the finest packets afloat. Mr. White is chief clerk.

The Rowena having changed days with the Commercial, will be in port to leave for Devall's Bluff and Augusta on Tuesday evening. John Davis commands, and Kidder, Harry and Sharp are clerks.

The Dos Arc, Capt. John D. Elliott, will be in port to-night. She will return on Tuesday for Vicksburg and the bends. Cad. Hanks is in the office, and Matt. Glass is his assistant.

Business is very dull at Evansville.

The J. S. McCune picked up a trip at Cairo for New Orleans.

At last accounts the Phantom and Success were aground at Cumberland bar in the Ohio.

It is reported that the City of Alton will be lengthened.

Hicks King and Al. Croxall are in St. Louis hunting a trip for the Cora S.

The Northern Belle and Pembina collided recently near Prescott. Not much damage sustained.

The Minnie is coming from St. Louis with a trip for White and the Arkansas rivers.

Frank Oake's new steamer Alaska had a trial trip the other day at Cincinnati. She worked splendidly.

Parties are negotiating for the Major Anderson, and, if they succeed, will put her in the Cincinnati and Pittsburg trade as a weekly packet.

The Northern Line Packet Company have closed a contract with Alf. Cutting, Esq., the well known boat builder of Metropolis, for a new wharfboat. The said boat will be 260 feet length, forty feet beam, five feet depth of hold, and will be ready for the spring business.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL, } MEMPHIS, October 26, 1867.

The principal feature in our money market to-day was the variation in the gold premium, which opened in New York at 41⅝ and closed at 41⅝. Our dealers bought during the day 41@41⅛. Offerings were very light. Currency is becoming more plentiful, owing to the light demand for exchange and consequent shipments westward required to move our staple. For some days past liberal amounts of currency have been received, and although the aggregate amount distributed has not been up to the wants of our merchants, there has been a very sensible ease experienced in all departments of trade. Cotton bills are taken by our banks at ½ off in almost all instances. Eastern sight is sold to customers at par to ¼ premium, but the current rates are uniform at ¾ premium to outsiders.

City scrip is not in demand. Dealers are slow to buy at 8@10c. The selling rates vary as to amount wanted from 41@45c.

County warrants are offered to brokers in large amounts, but as the demand is light, very little is taken. 70c is the nominal buying rate, and selling at 75@80c.

Police scrip is only in demand in a small way. Brokers buy at 70c and sell at 75@80c.

The following has just been issued from the revenue office in this city. It explains itself:

NOTICE.—We the undersigned, officers of Internal Revenue, in order to comply with the regulations governing the removal of Cotton, are compelled to assess and collect the tax in the hands of the shipper. Therefore, on and after Monday, the 28th inst., this regulation will go into effect. HALSEY F. COOPER, Assessor,
ROLFES. SANDERS, Collector.

MEMPHIS, October 24, 1867.

Now that the crop is coming in freely, we would call the attention of shippers to the following rules, which should be cut out and laid away for reference. Much annoyance may be saved thereby:

First—A permit from the revenue collectors must accompany each lot shipped.

Second—Each bale must be tagged, and the number of the tag must correspond with the number on the permit.

Third—The following words must be written, or printed in red ink across the face of the permit, viz: "This permit author zes the transportation of such bales of cotton only as bear metallic tags, lettered and numbered as herein described."

Fourth—When the tax is not paid cotton may be shipped without a regular permit, by assigning it to the collector at the point of destination; but it must be accompanied by a permit which states that the tax has not been paid.

The closing Liverpool cotton dispatch of last evening, received this morning, quoted that market active at an advance of ⅛d. The New York opening dispatch quoted a good demand and prices tending up, with ordinary at 8c, good ordinary 9c, low middling 9¾c, good middling 10c to arrive and ⅛c better in store, good middling 25½c, Mobile 10¾c and Orleans 25½c. At noon the market was very firm and holders were asking ⅛c higher for uplands, and closed with a fair demand at unchanged rates, with sales for the day of 2750 bales. Our market opened with a good inquiry for middling at 17½c, but holders were asking 18c. Sales were not large during the day, as the latter were generally willing to await the opening on Monday next. There is a dearth of low cottons, and our quotations must be regarded as nominal, while on the finer grades there is a wide difference in the views of both sellers and buyers, not as to value, but classification. A seller will report a sale of middling at 17¾@18c, while the buyer of the lot will report a purchase of strict to good middling at 17¾@18c. After a careful inquiry we make our quotations as follows, but will add that orders cant be filled at 17½c for middling. Receipts for the week, 5120; shipment, 5105.

Ordinary	14 @15
Good Ordinary	15½@16
Low Middling	16½@17
Middling	17¾@17¾
Strict Middling	18 @18¼
Good Middling	19 @20

There is no noticeable feature in our general market this to-day to report. The trade in our city in general commodities, though very fair in the aggregate, is not satisfactory in its details. In some articles prices are coming down, while owing to low water the market is scarce in all things. Buyers have very little faith in present prices, and are governed accordingly in their purchases. The demand for corn continues active and prices are firm, while the Stock has been reduced until there is almost none on hand, except that held by sellers in a small way; prime yellow and white are held at $1 10 @1 15; new ear is in demand at 75@80c. Oats are very firm at 75@76c. Meal is dull at $5 75 from levee and $6 @6 25 in store. Mess pork is lower to-day and offerings were freely made at $24 75. Clear sides, 19@19½; shoulders, 16@16½; breakfast bacon, 18@19c; plain canvassed hams, 23@24c; sugar cured, 23@25c. Cabbage, $6@10 per 100. Keg Lard, 15½@16c; tierce, 14½@15c. Apples firm and scarce at $4 50@5 50 per bbl. Butter is in good demand and quite firm, at 40@45c for choice, and 35@37c for good. Bagging in demand at 27@28c for India, and 25@28c for Kentucky. Rope firm and loom 24@26c. No beans in market. Eggs are firm and scarce at 30@35c. Flour quiet but firm; common $5 50@5 75; super $7 @8, X $9@10, XX $10 50@11, XXX $12@13; fancy brands $14 @16. Chickens scarce, selling at $5 50 for grown and $3@4 50 for old. Potatoes are scarce and firm; good sell at $4 50@5 per bbl. Onions, $3@3 75. Sweet Potatoes $3 per bbl, or 1 per bushel. Molasses firm at 70@80c for St. Louis refoshed; no New Orleans of consequence in market; syrup, $1@1 50. Sugar firm at 19@20c for white crushed and powdered and coffee sugars at 17½@18@19c; brown 14@15c for fair to choice. Rice 24@ 27½c. Cliff Lime $2 25@2 50; Cape Lime, $2 25@ 2 50.

THE MEMPHIS APPEAL

NIGHT ON THE ARKANSAS.

[ALBERT PIKE.]

NIGHT comes upon the ARKANSAS with swift stride,—
Its dark and turbid waters roll along,
Bearing wrecked trees and drift, deep, red and wide.
The heavy forest sleeps on either side,
To the water's edge low-stooping; and among
The patient stars the moon her lamp has hung.
Lit with the spirit of the buried sun.
No blue waves dance the stream's dark bosom on.
Glittering like beauty's sparkling starry tears;
No crest of foam, crowning the thunder dun,
Its misty ridge of frozen light uprears:
One sole relief in the great void appears—
A dark, blue ridge, set sharp against the sky,
Beyond the forest's utmost boundary.

Not so wast thou, O, brave old MERRIMAC!
As I remember thee: as thou art seen
By the Soul's eyes, when, dreaming, I go back
To my old home, and see the small boats tack
On thy blue waters, gliding swift between
The old grey rocks that o'er them fondly lean
Their foreheads scarred with lightning. There, around
Grim points the surly waters whirl and bound;
And here and there grave patriarchal trees
Persuade the grass to clothe the reluctant ground
And frowning banks with green. Still villages
Sleep in the embraces of the cool sea-breeze:
Ah, brave old stream! that—thou seemest to infold
My heart within thy waters, as of old.

NEW REPUBLICAN ORGAN.

The New York Herald makes the following statement with regard to a new Republican organ in New York which the late elections have made necessary:

Such being the unreliable and vacillating condition of the principal Republican journals in New York, a consultation was some time since held by the leading men of the party in the city and State, including United States Senators Morgan and Conkling, ex-Mayor Opdyke, William M. Evarts, Marshall O. Roberts, Isaac Sherman, ex-Congressman Frederick A. Conkling, William H. Webb, A. B. Cornell, S. B. Chittenden, Amos R. Eno, William T. Blodgett, and others of equal prominence, which has led to an important financial combination, by which it is proposed to establish a new Republican organ in the metropolis on a secure basis, free from the erratic propensities of the Tribune, and the jumping-jack peculiarities of the Times. The gentlemen who have undertaken this enterprise, having secured the co-operation of the President of the Broadway Bank (which institution enjoys the large profits of the city deposits), have agreed to subscribe the following sums to commence operations. Messrs. F. A. Palmer and Marshall O. Roberts, twenty thousand dollars each; Messrs. Morgan, Conklin, Opdyke, Sherman, Webb, Evarts, Cornell, Blodgett, Eno, Morphy, Chittenden, Butler, McEarlin, Blake and Cowden, ten thousand dollars each. These parties command a capital of six hundred thousand dollars, which will be doubled if necessary, to carry out their purpose. They have purchased Tammany Hall, entirely remodelled the building, and made arrangements to issue a morning paper, to be called the Telegraph, and to commence its sale at two cents a copy, subject, of course, to such changes as may hereafter become advisable. This new Republican organ will be under the editorial management of Charles A. Dana, formerly one of the principal editors of the New York Tribune, in connection with the brother of United States Senator Conkling. Its object will be to check the follies, absurdities, vagaries and vanities of the Tribune and Times, and to take the position of the recognized Republican organ in the State of New York.

THE LEGISLATURE.

On Tuesday the Senate passed the following Senate bills on third reading:

The bill to incorporate the German Association of Nashville, for the purpose of promoting immigration into Tennessee.

The bill to amend the charter of certain mining companies in Polk county, authorizing them to subscribe stock in railroads, and to issue mortgage bonds to pay the same.

The bill to incorporate the Tennessee Colored Banking and Real Estate Association at Memphis.

The bill to incorporate Wand's Patent Car-roofing company.

The House passed the following bills on third reading:

House bill No. 17: To prevent corporations from other States from evading the laws of this State.

The bill declares that it was the intention of the revenue act of 1861 to include life insurance companies in the provisions imposing a tax of $1250 upon insurance companies.

House bill No. 90: Which is the same in effect as bill No. 17, was adopted in lieu thereof, and passed third reading.

House bill No. 6: To establish a board of commissioners for Sumner county.

ADVICES from Puerto Cabelo to the 14th have just been received. A revolution against the authority of President Acosta, of Columbia, had broken out in the State of Bolivia, with Gen. Mendoza at its head. The Government of Venezuela has ordered the continuance of the war against the rebels in that country, and the arrest of the revolutionists.

Romero was at Puerto Cabelo, and Odas at Aranea. The Government had issued a proclamation that all foreigners and natives arriving in the country shall be considered able to bear arms within twenty-four hours after September 29.

Dissolution of Copartnership

MEMPHIS, TENN., October 19, 1867.

THE copartner-ship heretofore existing under the name of PLUMMER, CURRY & CO. is this day dissolved by the withdrawal of Geo. D. Plummer and A. P. Curry from said firm. R. F. Patterson has purchased the entire interest of Plummer & Curry in all of the property, including notes and accounts, and assumes all of the liabilities of said firm. He is authorized to use the name of the late firm in the settlement of the business. Plummer & Curry may be found at the old stand for the present.

GEO. D. PLUMMER,
A. P. CURRY,
R. F. PATTERSON.

I shall continue the Produce and Commission business at the old stand of Plummer, Curry & Co., 196 Main street, and solicit a continuance of the favors conferred on them
